Executive Summary

The unopposed progress and prosperity of a country like Pakistan rests with sustainability in the growth and development of skilled workforce in different sectors of economy. The training need analysis in the labor market assists and guides the policy makers for decision making in maintaining balanced labor market in the country keeping in view the demand and the supply and the unavailability of potential workers, shortage of the required skills and trainings result in rise of unfilled jobs in the industry leading to persistence of skills gap as barrier to higher industrial growth. TNA has been carried out in this regard across the Punjab with help of network of PVTC VTI's to obtain data from employers in the potential sectors and trades like manufacturing, services, construction and energy & power sectors. The objective is to measure the existing demand of labor market with the annual supply of skilled workforce coming from TVET institutes with special focus on the VTI's of PVTC to find out skills gap in the provincial labor market. PVTC has network of 217 VTI's and overall there are 1836 TVET institutes registered in the province including 666 technical institutes and 1,170 vocational institutes. Out of which, 205 vocational institutes and 160 institutes are engaged in imparting technical education. At present, there are 545 vocational and 249 technical women institutes in the province whereas; number of functional male vocational and technical institutes are 420 and 257 respectively to fulfill the demand of skilled workforce. The males' share in the annual skilled workforce supply is 74% while females share is around 26% in Punjab. The manufacturing sector employers lead the highest coverage at 68%, followed by construction 24%, Hospitality 7% and energy & power 1% each. Data shows high gender disparity in skilled workforce with 97% male and 3% female. The low level of female workforce participation is an indicator of weak employment opportunities available in the formal economy, however the self-employment in female related trades is high. The analysis of skilled workforce in sampled establishments in Punjab shows that work-based learner constitutes 39% followed by informal sector at 36%. The least skilled workforce is provided by TVET sector at 25% of total workforce. Skill deficiency analysis presents that 19% deficiency is found in the manufacturing sector, followed by 30% in construction sector. Energy and Power is the least deficit sectors amongst others. Services sector experiences highest shortage of skilled force at 38%.

The analysis of supply and demand skills gap shows that manufacturing sector leads with demand of 81% (202,640) against 17% (41,918) supply indicating gap in supply to the sector. Services sector with supply of 64% (160,227) against demand of 24% (62,261) of total skilled persons presents a gap on demand side. Less difference between demand and supply of skilled workforce is found only in construction sector with demand of 14% (35,356) against supply of 10% (26,801). The least demand and supply of skilled workforce has been recorded in energy and power sector that comprises of 4% (7,665) of skilled persons against less demand of 2% (5,439) skilled persons. There is an urgent need to bridge the gap between supply and demand of skilled workforce in these sectors for sustained supply against sustained demand for sustained production. Introduction

The developed and developing nations have perceived the advantages of having a skilled and talented workforce for guaranteeing feasible economic advancement. These nations are effectively contending in global labour market and therefore accomplishing social and economic profits by ventures made intensely in the skill improvement division.

With regards to, Pakistan, it is accepted that the current TVET framework, Technical Education benchmarks, curriculum and teacher training preparing materials does not coordinate with the developing demand of national and worldwide occupations and jobs. Various private TVET organizations as not under the immediate control of commonplace TEVTA is a lot higher than the public sector institutions. Such a high attention of private sector does not pursue any base scholastic principles that outcomes in imbalances owing to the expanded supply of skilled and talented workforce in the labour market.

It is a general observation that the current curriculum presented in the TVET Institutes does not resemble to the job and activity market demand of the national and global market, due to which greater part of the skilled workforce remains jobless and the employer frequently reports expertise inadequacies.

Objectives of TNA

The overall objective of this TNA prepared by the R&D Department was to collect data to calculate labor market demand for skilled workforce in Punjab for the following purpose:

1. To work out plan to start demand driven trades in the VTI's by calculating and predicting the skilled workforce demand of the provincial labor market

2. To figure out the supply of skilled workforce produced annually by TVET institutes in the province by different trades

3. To calculate supply-demand skills gap by different skills/trades in provincial labor market

4. To generate actionable policy recommendations for reducing the skills deficiency gaps in TVET sector, generally in Punjab and most importantly in PVTC.

Methodology

Phone and different gadgets are utilized for gathering information verbally and composed on email from respondents found away from the analyst and having these offices in addition to the specialist having their contact numbers. Utilization of questioners urges test people to react, prompting higher reaction rates. Questioners build appreciation of inquiries by addressing respondents' inquiries. It is decently cost productive, contingent upon nearby call charge structure. It cannot be utilized for non-sound data (designs, showings, taste/smell tests) this instrument is not reasonable for the respondents where the phone office is not accessible.

For accumulation of information from the respondents who are situated at a long separation and do not have any correspondence office. They have been reached through sent Mail poll. The poll might be given to the respondents or sent to them, however in all cases they are come back to the specialist by means of mail. The cost included is exceptionally less yet no explanation can be given to the respondents whenever required. Respondents can reply at their own accommodation. The respondents cannot be one-sided by the experts and the detail data can be gathered for the exploration reason. Desk review has been done and also data has been collected from the presidents and also previous research reports has been studied.

TVET Potential in Punjab

Total population of youth in Punjab (15-29 years) is 29.3 million and 10 million youth goes for formal education. Out of remaining 19.3 million, approximately 5 million youth is a potential market for the vocational training whereas total annual training capacity in public sector training providers is not more than 0.6 million.

Demographics of the Punjab

After a delay of 19 years, Pakistan conducted its 6th Population Housing Census in 2017.The country's population is now recorded at 207.7 million with an average annual growth rate of 2.4%.The population of Punjab is 110,012,442 with an average annual growth rate of 2.13%, with 55,958,974 (51%) men, 54,046,759 (49%) women, and 6,709 (0.00%) transgender persons. There are approximately 1 million more men than women in Punjab.

The sex ratio for Punjab is 103 men for every 100 women with a higher ratio for urban areas (106 men for every 100 women). Of the 110 million people living in Punjab, 40.4 million (37%) live in urban areas while 69.6 million (63%) live in rural areas. 110 million people live in 17.1 million households, with an average household size of 6.43 persons as compared to 7 persons in 1998. The decrease in household size can partly be attributed to a declining Total Fertility Rate (3.2 in 2012 to 2.7 in 2017).

Data indicates that women lag behind men in terms of registration with the local authorities e.g. birth, death, marriage, and divorce registration. In 2016, out of a total of 2,097,510 birth registrations, 1,129,028 (54%) were for boys and 968,482 (46%) were for girls. Compared to 2015, registrations of the girl child decreased by 38% in 2016 351,316 deaths were registered in Punjab in 2016. Out of these, 205,777 (59%) were male deaths and 145,539 (41%) were female deaths. 613,264 marriages were registered in Punjab in 2016. This is a 10% decrease from 2015 in which 683,504 marriages were registered. In 2016, 93,507 divorces were filed, out of which 72,179 (77%) were filed by men and 21,328 (23%) were filed by women.

By the end of 2015, NADRA had issued 57,127,166 CNICs in Punjab. Of these, 32,230,945 (56%) were issued to men and 24,896,221 (44%) were issued to women. By the end of 2016, NADRA had issued 58,797,101 CNICs, 33,102,382 (56%) to men and 25,694,719 (44%) to women, with a GPI of 0.776. In 2017, an additional 7,496,446 CNICs were issued, of which, 4,442,350 (59%) were issued to men while 3,054,096 (41%) were issued to women. By the end of 2017, NADRA had issued a total of 66,293,547 CNICs in Punjab.

District Level Skilled Workforce Supply and Demand

The analysis indicates that there are some districts in which supply is less than demand of skilled workforce whereas, there are many districts where demand is less than supply of skilled workforce. The total number of districts having less supply than demand stands at 13th number which includes Sialkot (87%), Faisalabad 27%), Gujranwala (82%), Gujarat (76%), Rawalpindi(13%), Sargodha (37%), Chakwal (65%), Bahawalpur (33%), Jhelum (60%) and Lahore (40%).The districts including Sialkot, Gujranwala and Gujrat provide the highest demand of skilled workforce while Faisalabad and Rawalpindi supply the least demand under category of more demand and less supply of skilled workforce. More work is required to ensure consumption of more skilled workforce coming from these districts. Similarly, the remaining districts of the province have more supply than demand of skilled workforce which needs to ensure increase in demand to bring it with supply. The emerging gaps between demand and supply of skilled workforce need to be bridged for sustainable supply of skilled workforce to the different sectors of economy.
